Great Railway Strike Sweeps France

AMERICAN CAPITALISTS BEAT CITY TO ATHABASCA IN POWER SCHEME

Engineer Fielding Found That He Had Been Forestalled—Men Representing American Money Got There First—Have a Man in Ottawa and Will Try to File Application Before the City for Water and Power Rights.

That Alfred Violette, backed by a syndicate of American capital, is endeavoring to acquire rights on the Athabasca river at Grand Rapids, the city which the city of Edmonton is investigating for a power plant, was learned by a Capital reporter this morning, while investigating the statements by John S. Fielding, the engineer, who is surveying Grand Rapids in the city's interests.

More than that, the Capital learned that the syndicate has representatives working at Ottawa trying to influence the Department of the Interior to grant them the rights in preference to the city of Edmonton.

When Engineer Fielding reached Grand Rapids he found the site already surveyed, and stakes driven into the ground. On one of these stakes was attached a notice, as follows:

"Post No. 1: Being the first post in a survey for the purpose of obtaining water rights in the Athabasca river at Grand Rapids, taking in and including all necessary lands and all water passing thereover. Dated, September 19, 1910. Sgd. A. Violette, per M. W. Harris. Witness, F. Violette."

Alfred Violette is well known about Edmonton, having been engaged here in selling the stock of the Alberta Oil and Asphalt Company, of which E. E. Delavault is president.

Violette has been prospecting for oil in the north for some time and is very familiar with the country between Grand Rapids and Fort McMurray.

That Violette has had the idea of acquiring rights at Grand Rapids for quite a while is a fact, and has since the first conceived the idea been negotiating with American capital for funds to carry his plan into effect. He was finally successful.

When the city decided to send an engineer to Grand Rapids to look into the possibilities there for the generation of power, Violette got busy and communicated with his backers, with the result that they decided to get in ahead of the city.

Several days before Engineer Fielding left for the north, a party of four men, dismounted in front of the Davies Company outfitting store on McDougall avenue and purchased several articles. They seemed in a great hurry and did things swiftly. According to Mr. Dan Davies, one of the number was Alfred Violette.

Col. Sanders of Athabasca Landing, who is a guest at the Alberta hotel, stated to the Capital reporter this morning that he remembered the arrival of the four men, Violette included, at the landing and the subsequent talk about the landing that one of the number was an American millionaire.

RECORD OF GERMAN AND SON IN NORTH

Sturdy Farmer From Fatherland
Does Wonders in Twelve Months' Time.

IN THE PEAVINE PRAIRIE

With Boy of Nine He Clears
Twenty Acres and Prepares
Fifty More.

The experience of Mr. Daniel Fast, a German farmer who has in the space of twelve months made a home for himself in the Peavine Prairie district and secured a comparative independence, may not be unusual, but it proves what industry and thrift can do under very ordinary circumstances. Mr. Fast drove out to his homestead one year ago with Mr. J. J. Moore of the Immigration Hall, and in the course of their conversation, said:

"I'm going to show my neighbors how you ought to farm. If you come out here in two years you will see what a farm should be."

This statement should prove an effective offset to any criticism which says that the harsh conditions of the north impose conditions on farmers which makes homesteading almost impossible. Mr. Fast chose to homestead and his results speak for themselves. The following is his statement as interpreted at the Immigration Hall:

Mr. Daniel Fast has since going on his homestead broken up 25 acres of land for cultivation next spring, and has also got 50 acres cleared ready for breaking up next year. He did his breaking this year in the months of June and July with oxen, as he believed.

EXCITING SCENES AT MONTREAL FIRE

Three Men Narrowly Escaped
Death When King's Hall
Was Burned Down.

LOSS WILL BE HEAVY

Twenty-five Business Concerns
Had Offices Wiped Out—
Firemen Injured.

Montreal, Oct. 13.—Twenty-five business concerns including banks, dentists' offices, dressmakers, and others were wiped out, three men narrowly escaped death, being caught on top of the building and several firemen sustained severe injuries, at a fire this morning which practically wiped out the King's Hall, situated on St. Catherine's street west, between Drummond and Mountain streets, in the heart of the uptown business district. John Jones and Edward Coates, who were asleep in the building when the fire broke out, and whose escape was cut off, were forced to the roof of the building and created a lot of excitement.

They were rescued. Dr. Adams, who happened to be in the office when the fire broke out, also had a thrilling escape, being forced to descend from the third storey by means of a rope.

The loss is estimated at $100,000.

LIEUT. GOVERNOR FOR NOVA SCOTIA

Halifax, N.S., Oct. 13.—A private despatch from Ottawa, says that while definite action has as yet not been taken by the government, it has been decided that Senator J. W. McGreggor shall be the next governor of Nova Scotia, and that Premier Murray will take a satorship.

POTTER'S REPORTS ON WAY.

Commissioner Boutillon has received a telegram from Engineer Potter, of New York, to the effect that he has forwarded his report on the sewerage system and water problem, and that they would probably arrive on Saturday.

$26,000 STOLEN.

Winnipeg, Oct. 13.—The John Deere Plow Company's safe was broken into and ten thousand dollars stolen last night. A meat market and other small stores were also robbed.

HEAVY RAINS FALL ON FIRE DISTRICT

Thunderstorm Swept Over Rainy River and Beaudette Last Night—Still Raining.

MAY PUT OUT ALL FIRES

If It Continues Long Enough To Soak the Ground—Tenters Suffer.

Rainy River, Oct. 13.—Shortly after ten o'clock last night a heavy thunderstorm accompanied by rain passed over Rainy River and Beaudette and an hour later a steady rain was falling. While the rain will occasion some discomfort to the refugees who are sleeping in tents it will dampen down the fires that are still smoldering in the district, and if it continues, may quench them sufficiently to put an end to all the immediate danger of further damage.

REFUSES TO PLAY CARDS: IS KILLED BY LIGHTNING

Napoleonville, N., Oct. 13.—Just after Pierre Gros, 18 years old, had refused to enter a game of cards he was struck and killed by lightning. The card players received slight shocks but were uninjured.

ASK GOVERNMENT FOR BIG SUBSIDY

Directors of Selkirk Centennial See Ministers—To Get An Early Reply.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 13.—The Winnipeg delegation which arrived in Ottawa last night to ask Sir Wilfrid and his colleagues for a grant of $250,000 to the Selkirk Centennial Exposition in 1914, did not see the ministers till one o'clock today. Mayor Evans presented a memorial laying the matter fully before Sir Wilfrid, Mr. Fielding and Mr. Fisher. Sir Wilfrid said that he had not an opportunity to give the matter any further consideration since July when the proposal was discussed in Winnipeg.

Hon. W. S. Fielding said the promoters of the exposition were entitled to an early reply and that the matter would be taken up by the cabinet later today.

STILL FOLEY BROS. & LARSON

Big Winnipeg Grocery Firm Has Not Sold out as Was Reported

Winnipeg, Oct. 13.—Some weeks ago it was stated that Foley Bros., Larson and Company, of Winnipeg, had sold their wholesale groceries business to Wm. Geoghegan, of Calgary, who had organized a million dollar syndicate for the purpose. Foley Bros., Larson & Co. state there is absolutely no truth in the report, they have not sold to Geoghegan nor anybody else, but the present management continuing as in the past.

The following message was received by the Government for transmission, subject to the terms and conditions printed on the blank form No. 1. which terms and conditions have been agreed to by the sender.

D. H. KEELEY, General Superintendent.

Press Received by Time Check

Peace River Crossing, Alt., Oct. 12, 1910

Edmonton Capital,

The telegraph line reached this point on the 6th inst. Quite a gathering of the residents was held at the place in the evening where the office was cut in, and much friendly rivalry existed as to who should have the honor of transmitting the first message. Everyone, without exception, expressed themselves as being highly delighted with the realization of one of the winter evening dreams of the past as regards closer communication with the outside world.

The line is now being extended 16 miles further to the Shaftsbury Settlement, from which point they will have telephone communication with this place this winter.

A steady stream of immigration continues to flow through this place of settlers bound for Grande Prairie and Peace River points. The banner crops around this district and the upper country will be a big inducement to incoming settlers. Mr. S. A. Brick, of Shaftsbury Settlement, has just finished threshing and has had a yield of 3000 bushels of No. 1 wheat and 1500 bushels of oats. Other farmers of the district report equally favorable crops. One of the recent settlers of Grande Prairie has thrashed 1500 bushels of first class oats. This, at the selling price at present of $1.50 per bushel, means a nice return for the first crop.

Another step forward has been taken in bringing the great North outside world. The government line reached Peace River Crossing, on the sixth. The office was officially opened last night. The was addressed to the Daily Capital, and tells of affairs in the north.

BOY SCOUTS TO HELP

Seventy-five Will Take Part in Sham Battle on Thanksgiving Day

The sham battle, in which all the regiments in Edmonton will take part, which is to be held on Thanksgiving Day, will be held to the north of the city between the packing plant and Twenty-first street, a distance of five miles.

The regiments will be divided, that is to say, half of the 101st Fusiliers will be on one side with half of the A. M. R.'s the remainder of both regiments will be on the other side. In addition to this Archdeacon Gray will have seventy-five of his boy scouts attached, half on either side. The opposing forces are expected to meet about the G. T. P. shops, although this is hard to foretell.

PANAMA CANAL TO BE OPENED ON TIME

At Least It Will Be If Col. Goethals Still Stays on the Job.

FINISH THE WORK BEFORE

Will Be a Lot of Tuning Up To Do—Many Boats Will Go Through.

New York, Oct. 13.—Lieut. Col. George W. Goethals, chairman of the Panama Canal Commission and chief engineer of the Panama canal, left today on the Colon for a brief visit home.

Col. Goethals says that if he still has anything to do with the canal will surely be opened on January 1, 1915. He feels pretty sure that the actual work of construction will have been completed considerably before that time, but there will be tuning up to do and a lot of machinery to try out because he doesn't want anything to break down after the canal has been declared open. A big fleet will be waiting to go through and the builders want every ship to do it without a hitch.

BIG STRIKE OF RAILWAY EMPLOYEES IN FRANCE; ALL LINES ARE TIED UP

Many Parisians Now Have to Walk to Their Suburban Homes—Coal Mines Close—Trade With Germany is Practically at a Standstill—May Have to Take Food Supplies to Paris by Canal and River.

Paris, Oct. 13.—The Paris Lyons and Mediterranean and Orleans men have tonight voted to strike, as also did the employees of the Paris subway, who deem this a good opportunity to obtain satisfaction of a number of demands for which they have been agitating for some time past.

The effect of the strike on the two roads mentioned is not as yet perceptible. It is pointed out however, that the engineers on these lines do not reside in Paris. They will therefore take their trains out but abandon them when they reach their own town after spreading the strike order en route.

Warrants were issued tonight for the arrest of 52 of the strike leaders. Coal Mines Close Courrières, Oct. 13.—The coal mine dismissed 4,500 employees today because of the inability to ship the coal during the railway strike.

Paris, Oct. 13.—The French government is meeting the situation coming from the general strike of the railway employees with a firmness that challenges the admiration of even those who sympathize with the men in their demands for a minimum wage of $4 a day. Five of the most influential strike leaders were placed under arrest tonight in fulfillment of Premier Briand's promise to punish the agitators.

The National Railroad Union has succeeded in thoroughly demoralizing the service office Northern and Western systems. They are also successful in the Eastern and Southern lines. The situation this morning shows little change from that of yesterday.

CHINA THE PRIZE IN EVENT OF A WAR

Japan Warns Government at Peking Not to Provoke Any Hostilities.

IS NO BOXER PERIL NOW

Japanese Paper Discredits Danger of Another Uprising in Celestial Kingdom.

Tokio, Oct. 13.—The Japan Times has a long editorial today on a special telegram to the Kokumin which said that the Chinese War Minister and Viceroy Hsiang reported at the command of the Prince Regent last Friday that one eastern province was practically Japanese territory and that two others were threatened. The report urged that "in addition to fortifying and organizing a new army, it was indispensable that China should avail herself of American's chivalrous offer of loans with which to promote railway and colonial policies."

The Times regards this as a definite disclosure of the Peking Government's policy of seeking to alienate America, Germany and China against England, Russia and Japan. The paper warns the Chinese government against precipitating a conflict in which China would inevitably be the prize.

Japanese opinion, which has hitherto been exceptionally correct in regard to affairs in China, wholly discredits the danger of another uprising there similar to the Boxer outbreak in 1900.

2 SUDDEN DEATHS NEAR NELSON B.C.

One Man Killed by Falling Tree, Another Found Dead in His Cabin.

Nelson, B.C., Oct. 13.—Gilbert Brachette was killed in the woods near Coleman yesterday morning by the falling of a tree. The deceased came from London, England.

Lying in a pool of blood and evidently dead for hours, Charles Shannon, one of the pioneers of Deer Park and Renata, was found dead in his cabin on a ranch at Renata by Garhart Buhler. The coroner's jury finds no evidence of foul play and brought in a verdict of death from natural causes. It is believed to be heart disease. The dead man has two unmarried sisters in London, Ont. He was a bachelor.

LAID A QUARTER MILE OF HOSE TO REACH FIRE

Old Unused Planing Mill Burns In the Heart of Winnipeg—Is Total Loss.

Winnipeg, Oct. 13.—The dismantled planing mill owned by J. Lalonde is the heart of the city for the third or fourth time within the past few weeks burst into flames about 10 o'clock last night and despite the fact that the firemen rapidly turned out, when a general alarm was given, the building, a frame shell, was utterly gutted. The loss is between $3000 and $4000.

A feature was that although the building is beyond the limits of the high pressure system, the brigade promptly laid out over a mile of hose to the nearest high pressure hydrant and obtained a good working pressure.

WrestlingRUBE MILLS
WAS THE BESTYoungest Outfielder in Western Canada League Had the Highest Average

Who was the best all-around outfielder in the Western Canada league? Many fans, after thinking a moment will say Clynies. But Rube Mills is the stellar light, and much of the credit for his excellent showing must be given to Deacon White. Deak took this green player, which his home town, Calgary, refused to give a try-out, and with careful coaching, turned out a star. Rube could not as yet be called a finished player, but another year in an Eskimo suit, will fit him for Class A. He is a natural hitter, speedy on the bases, and in addition has a wing which anchors runners on third. Considering the fact that he was a pitcher previous to this spring, Mills' work in the outfield was phenomenal. When he gains a little more self-confidence, there will be no holding him. When the different papers around the circuit were engaged in picking all-star teams the names generally mentioned for the outfield positions were: Clynies, Lassi, Wilson, Zimmerman, Bennett, Crocker, and Olson. Compare their batting and fielding averages with Mills, and also notice the assists from the out-field noticed to Bill Lassi.

Newey Lalonde, star player of the National Lacrosse team, whose serious illness greatly handicapped the eastern club champion, is still in St. Paul's Hospital, Vancouver. His teammates left for home last Monday, but the fear of losing their leader was not able to prevent for another fortnight. Newey was pummeled on the trip west, and Eddie Wettlaufer told the Capital, the horse-hockey star has a head as large as a stone.

CARRIGAN IS BEST

Former Toronto Backstop The Best in the American League.

Connie Mack, of the Athletics, regards Carrigan of the Boston Americans, as the best catcher in the American league. Next to him he picks Tris Thomas and then Freddie Payne.

"I take Carrigan's hitting ability into consideration," said Mack. "Thomas is another good one. When I bought Thomas from Detroit I knew I was taking a chance. It was true that his arm was bad, and any club would have been justified in selling him, but I thought I would take the chance. I did. His arm came back and he has been a great help to us.

"Payne has developed into a good catcher since leaving Detroit. I think that Payne needed more work than he got in Detroit. He is a good hitter, dangerous on the bases and can catch.

"I consider that Sweeney of New York is the coming catcher of the league. He has everything that makes me think that he will be a wonder behind the bat some day. Stange and Schmidt of Detroit are good backstops. Paddy Livingston, on my team is a good one, also. Laps, the youngster with 4, looked bad last time we came here, but he has improved since then.

"Kling has been praised by many. I consider the fact that he has done much this year, Gibson, to my way of thinking, does not appear to be the catcher he was last season. Mind you, he is a steady, reliable backstop, but he is not a star by any means."

The American league is ahead of the National in catchers, says Mack.

CAP. ANSON THE RUNNING FIENDUsed to Order Ten Mile Training
Stunts—The Players Hid in a Graveyard

Cap Anson was one of the most vicious runners in the world, and training under him was a nightmare to his players. "Anse" could drive his men for three hours in practice, then lead them in long runs, placing himself at the head of the procession and setting a steady, jogging pace. If they fell out, the morning training was a snarl and a roar.

One afternoon in New Orleans years ago Anson ordered ten laps around the field after practice, which on the old grounds was nearly ten miles.

The afternoon was hot, one of those wilting southern spring days that sap the life out of men fresh from the rigors of northern winter. The players fell into line, grumbling and scowling. Back of left field a high board fence separated the ball grounds from one of the old cemeteries, and near the foul line a board was up off the fence. The first time the running athletes passed the hole in the fence Deacon gave a nod of approval to see if Anson was looking and divined head first through the gap into the cemetery. The others continued on around the lot, but on the second round Lange, Ryan, Kittredge and Decker dived after Deacon and joined him in the cemetery.

The third trip saw the line dwindle to four followers, with Anson still leading. The fourth found only Anson and poor Bill Schriver, who had the luck to be directly behind his captain, plodding on, and on the next trip Schriver made the leap for life. Majestically Anson toiled on while the onlookers writhed with delight. Perhaps their behavior aroused suspicion, or the absence of following footsteps attracted "Cap's" attention.

He stopped, looked at the vacant field, a grin grimed his red face and he resumed the jogging. Straight to that fence he plodded, and, sticking his head through the hole, he beheld his team leaning against the above-ground tombs, smoking and laughing. Just for that second and Columbus, too to go, still. Promising, the heavily backed favorite, was unlaced, as was Pure Gem; and well supported. The chances of the winners were strongly fancied by his connections, which led to his being backed down to the price quoted. The field numbered nineteen, other stars being Deacon, Dibs, Lagos, Elbert, Etta, Magic, Old China, Chesnut, Demothens, Rock Lane, Eaton Lad, Special, Stornich, Bachelor's Chance and Tiripapa.

IT'S FUNNY WHAT A DIFF. ETC.

Rush Leaguer, Accustomed to Dollar a Day Eats, Asks for Best When in Fast Set

"One of the merriest things in baseball" says Frank Chance, "is to my mind at least—the difference in the hotel and living accommodations which a hall player will demand in the different seasons of the year. Of course, being a hall player myself, I have to stick up for the boys during the playing season and to see that they really get the best that the market can afford, but there are some rich boys in it just the same."

"Take for instance, young Mr. Jones, pitcher, newly signed by one of the big league clubs. Mr. Jones is fresh from the backwoods, and in his little league the manager of the club thought he was doing the royal thing when he charged the boys at a hotel that he stabled them $1 per day. Young Mr. Jones is an intelligent, likeable athlete, and one of the veterans, Bill Skink, the shortstop, takes a fancy to him.

"Just what to Demand. "Mr. Skink proceeds to instruct Mr. Jones as to the things a big league player has the right to expect and to demand—especially to demand. The youngster's eyes bulge out for a day or two and then he falls quite naturally into the ways laid down for him by his mentor. Any man will gladly fall into any groove that means an expectancy of better eats and sleeps than he has been receiving—if it was the other way he'd be extremely slow to learn.

"By the time May arrives Mr. Jones fumes and frets if the con-somme is not steaming hot, and raises a 'rough house' in the dining room when the Neapolitan ice cream is a trifle melted. He also raises like a caged beast if his room isn't an outside room and contiguous to the elevator. Pierpont Morgan, paying $1000 a day for a suite, couldn't wait more, ask more or insist on getting more than is demanded by young Mr. Jones. And every player on the team backs him up in his requests, while old Bill Skink grinningly says: 'That is right, kid. The club gets enough out of him.'"

Tournament

Floss Morf, Ill., Oct. 12.—Miss Dorothy Campbell of Hamilton, Canada, holder of the Women's National Golf championship, led the field of 90 qualifiers in the sixteenth annual tournament for the Women's U.S.G.F. title today at the Homewood Country Club, Floss Morf. Miss Campbell turned in a card of 85 for 13 holes, five under the best previous record held by Mrs. Luther Kennel of Evanston. Miss Campbell played a perfect golf throughout, her only bad hole being the long eighth, on which she went one stroke over Dorey figures. Her card cut 4, 4, 6, 5, 4, 5, 4, 7, 4—41. In 5, 5, 4, 4, 5, 4, 4—41. To call her G. M. Martin of Tavistock, England, was third low score with 90.

Canadian Ladies Play Well. Floss Morf, Ill., Oct. 11.—Eastern Canada players retained their advantage in the first round of the match played in the sixteenth annual women's championship tournament to-day at the Homewood Country Club.

Matches in the first round were few in number. The greatest upset of the day was the defeat of Mrs. Thurston Harris, western and Chicago champion, at the hands of Miss Helmer of the Midlothian club of Chicago. Miss Helmer won the match line up and two to play. The Midlothian player held the lead throughout the day and was two up on the western champion at the end of the first nine holes. Miss Dorothy Campbell of Hamilton, holder of the National and Canadian championships, defeated Mrs. A. Hedstrom of Buffalo, seven up and five to play. She played a medal score of 91 for the course, which was considered excellent in the heavy wind.

THE CHESSE CLUB

There is a letter at the Daily Capital office for the secretary of the Alberta Chess Association.

outs as it is. Don't let 'em bully you—never forget that you're a big league ballplayer, and that a big leaguer is entitled to the best there is!

October comes and the season draws near an end. The boys meet in the clubhouse and begin to plan out a terrible excursion into the jay hawls—a two week trip that ought to yield at least $25.83 of extra coin. Mr. Skink is going to manage the tour and Mr. Jones, by virtue of his having had a collegiate education, is unanimously appointed secretary-treasurer. The whole gang assembles to discuss ways, means and probable finances.

"Now, fellows," says Mr. Skink, "we take the 7 p.m. train to this stop the fare'll be $3.21 each and the sleeper is $2."

"A howl of protest from the gang. 'Aw, nix, nix on that sleeper thing,' cries Catcher Hovey. 'We can play poker just as well's not, and put the $2 down in our jeans.'"

"Without a dissenting vote it is there and then agreed that there will be no sleepers used on the trip. They debate hotels."

"We can stop at the Ambodhous house," says Mr. Jones, "for $1.20 a day." Another unanimous howl.

"Cut out the fancy hotel thing," howls Left Fielder Swizzle. "We'll stop at the Donkey lodging house, one bean each, and if we eat a lunch at the lunch rooms we can plant 75 cents every day!"

"It is agreed to eat at the lunch rooms, and that no player shall take the treasury for over 25 cents per meal. And then those pampered youngsters, who rage maniacally about upper berths, go forth, camping in ninth rate shacks, eating at quick lunch places, and sitting up all night on their railway tours. They are saving money, see? That is the whole story. Human nature is human nature everywhere."

ATHLETICS ARE ON THE TOBACAmerican League Picked Team
Takes Another Game from the Champions

Philadelphia, Oct. 13.—"Are they taking it easy?" or "Have they struck a slump?" are the questions the baseball supporters are asking themselves today.

The all-star American league team took the second of the series from the Athletics yesterday by a score of 5 to 1. With Johnson pitching on Tuesday the downfall of the Athletics was not altogether a surprise, but better things were expected yesterday with Walsh as an opponent.

Not only did Philadelphia prove weak with the stick, but the fielding was about the worst ever seen here, no less than seven errors being charged up to them. Second Baseman Collins being guilty of a couple of them.

Bender, Plank and Coombs pitched three innings each, but Bender outclassed his other box mates, holding the all-stars without a hit while he was on the mound, while only one of the hitters to face him reached first safely.

The talent is at a loss to explain the champions' poor showing, though the impression is abroad that the players are not taking any unnecessary chances to win both with a view to being in the very best shape for Monday's game, to say nothing of the beneficial effect it may have on the odds in the betting. The score:

COACH HARRY GRIFFITH.

The University of Toronto is fortunate in having the services of Harry Griffith as coach. The machine-like precision with which the team worked last season, and the ease with which they disposed of the teams in the Intercollegiate Union and the Rough Riders in the final game for the Canadian championship, reflected the methods of Coach Griffith quite as much as the ability of the players individually and collectively.

Mr. Griffith first came prominent in football at Ridley College, and has been a close student of the game for years. He is an exponent of the fast, open, running and kicking game, and won golden emblems from the leading football authorities of the Dominion after the great game with Ottawa at Rosedale last fall. He has a squad of about 50 men at work at present in an effort to fill the vacancies caused by the loss of fully half of the champions of 1909. His team made its home for 1910 at Rosedale against McGill University last Saturday, when it won by 10 to 9.

THE AMBITIOUS GRANITES

At the meeting of the Granite Curling Club, held in the rink last evening, the question of adding more ice surface was discussed. A committee was appointed to consider the addition to the curling rink of four sheets and also the building of a skating rink. The finances of the club are in a healthy condition, nearly the entire original cost of the Granite Rink having already been paid.

"We can stop at the Ambodhous house," says Mr. Jones, "for $1.20 a day." Another unanimous howl.

IN THE DAYS OF OLD.

Speculation as to the probable pitchers to be used in the forthcoming series for the world's championship between the Cubs and the Athletics recalls to veteran fans the fact that in the first series in 1884 between the Providence team of the National league and the Metropolitans of the old American association—Charley Radbourne pitched all three of the games for Providence and won them all. Most remarkable was the performance, because of the fact that the games were played on successive days—Oct. 23, 24, and 25—and that in the three games the famous old Mets made but no hits and did not receive a single base on balls—St. Louis Star.

ARE WE TO HAVE A CITY LEAGUE?Edmonton Can Enter a District of
Its Own in the Alberta
Amateur League

In former years Alberta has had a variety of hockey leagues which have conducted their affairs in a slipshod manner. There were the Northern Alberta, Central Alberta and Southern Alberta divisions and their long drawn out schedules always left the real championship of the province undecided. Last season the Deacons of Edmonton, had just about the fastest septette in the province, but had not a chance of measuring their prowess with the so-called provincial champions.

Now this year there is a suggestion that a real Alberta Amateur League be formed with a strict residence rule, the winners of which shall hold the challenge cup presented by the Calgary Herald. The Herald insists that the league be an entirely new organization, and it is quite right in its contention. The old semi-pro ideas must be laid on the shelf and the new Alberta League must be fashioned after the O. H. A. or there is no use trying to form it. Competent officers are required and an early meeting should be held to divide the province into districts and appoint a committee for each section.

Edmonton is quite able to support three good teams while the University of Alberta would complete a nice four team division. In Edmonton there would be Pete Burley's Y. M. C. A. team, Deacon White's septette, while there is talk of Hum Aldous putting in material among the local rinks for the strong seven and there is no reason why they should not enter. Queen's avenue and J. H. Morris Co., who were members of the city league last season, are quite certain and in the event of their disbanding there will be a great rush for their players. Blaney, of Queens avenue, is a man that should not be overlooked in the dash for material.

The secretary of the city league last season, D. O'Hara, has left the city, so President J. W. Ward or some other officer should call a meeting at an early date (not waiting until December 6th) and find out just what the prospects for 1910-11 are.

There is the matter of the four city league players who last year forfeited their amateur status by playing for Edmonton against Prince Albert. The Saskatchewan club challenged for the Fitz-Robert Cup and Fred McKenney, Art McCannan, Gordon and Bill Banford were coaxed to turn out so that the cup should not leave the city. If they have not been already reinstated, there seems no reason why it shouldn't be done immediately.

None of the boys turned professional for any financial benefit to themselves but merely to aid Jack Winchester, Harold Decton and Bert Bonington in their defence of the cup. If Edmonton had lost the trophy all chance of challenging for the Stanley Cup again would have gone.

ADJOURN CASE FOR MEDICAL PROOFS

In the district court the case of Warnock vs. Buck Mine Coal company under the Workmen's Compensation act occupied yesterday afternoon and part of this morning's session.

The lawyer for the plaintiff, who was injured by being knocked down the main shaft of the company's mine sought to prove that the accident was due to the carelessness of the company, in failing to provide a proper means of ascent and descent at work hours outside of the main shaft or to warn the men against the use of the main shaft. It was the custom of the men to use this, outside of working hours and even in working hours between the hoisting of the different cars. Such was the practice until the second or air shaft fell into neglect. On this point the defense differed and the evidence produced by them was absolutely contradictory to it. On this point there could be no agreement.

One witness who had worked in the mine and whose name was Mike Ogilby, according to his own statement, might have given evidence on this but his knowledge of English was limited and he thought, when questioned, that the warning might very well be a bid to an oyster for a paper.

Medical evidence was given by Dr. McDonald who examined the man when hurt, and subsequently in the hospital. He considered the injuries simply a strain and having found the plaintiff very unwilling to get around and use his feet recommended him being sent back to work. He was merely said by love for attendance and could not make an X-ray examination without knowing where the money was to come from.

Dr. McDonald testified that on Mr. Mackie's request he examined the man and found him suffering from a fracture of the — or — bone. Here he produced a skeleton of a foot from which gruesome model he illustrated the nature of the fracture. He had made an X-ray examination as he had no money for the purpose.

After hearing all the evidence the judge decided that under the act he must have the opinions of the medical referee appointed by the act. As this sessionary was absolutely essential to the further progress of the case the judge adjourned it until afternoon.

McDOUGALL MEN'S ASSOCIATION.

The usual weekly meeting of the M.M.A. was held on Tuesday evening last when the Rev. J. E. Hughson lectured on "The Development of Democracy."

The reverend gentleman said that, at the birth of Christ there were two ideals of government in the world—the Roman, or despotic ideal and the Hebrew or democratic ideal.

He then proceeded to outline the struggle between the two which, he said, passed through four phases, viz:

- (1) The Reformation, or the supremacy of the spiritual.
- (2) The Reformation, or the supremacy of the individual.
- (3) The Renaissance, or the supremacy of the intellect.
- (4) The French Revolution, or the supremacy of self-will.

These phases culminated in Napoleon Bonaparte, who was the incarnation of self-will, going up and down Europe destroying existing conditions. This was one of the types of democracy which came to the American continent through Tom Paine and others and was at the root of the lawlessness of the southern States. Also it was the primal cause of the anarchy existing in Europe today.

Another type of democracy came to us from England, through the Puritan Fathers; true democracy, which believed in law and order and the submission to higher powers than our own and which teaches that true liberty is an acknowledgment of submission to a higher power.

Those two types of democracy were pouring into Canada, where, said the lecturer, on these western plains of ours, will culminate the great fight of the ages, the fight for a true liberty which teaches that every man is a law to himself and recognizes no God or law save that which suits himself.

The lecturer closed with an earnest appeal to young men to be up and doing, to study those questions and to take their places in the struggle before them.

RECORD OF GERMAN I.

ed this was the best time to do this kind of work if results were to be obtained. For work done in the shape of discing for another settler in that locality he was allowed the use of 7 acres of land, which he seeded with oats, potatoes, turnips and other vegetables. From this land he has harvested nine big loads of oats, forty-four sacks of potatoes, four big loads of turnips, and also all the other vegetables that he required.

He smelt a log chicken house, a log hog pen, a log stable and also a log house in which to live. He cut 19 loads of hay from his land, which was good upland hay, which on the market today would bring $1500 per ton. He has in the way of stock practically three oxen, seven pigs and forty fowls. He states that he and his little son cleared on an average of one acre in two days, ready for the plow.

Mr. Fast came to this country with one son, a boy of nine years old, and he and the boy have done practically all the work in connection with his land. Two other sons have since located near him and a fourth who has been serving his time in the German army is expected any day. He is loud in his praise of the section in which "the lines are fallen unto him."

His statement as to the character of the country as the opinion of a farmer of a life time's experience, is full of enthusiasm and encouragement:

"The soil in that district is a rich black loam with a clay subsoil, generally speaking it is a rolling country. There is quite a lot of land that could be homesteaded in that district of the same quality as this. Of an average in that district there would not be more than four acres of what might be termed bush on each 160 acres. Mr. Fast is very well satisfied with his homestead and also with the district. It is being settled up with a good class of white people. The crops that were grown this year were of the very best quality. He secured water of pure quality at twelve feet, this well was used to water nine head of stock all through this summer, and also supplied the household with water, and at the present time there appears to be about five feet of water in it."

It is the opinion expressed by officials of the Immigration Hall that he represents the ideal type of immigrant for this country, of a class that cannot be too numerous.

PAYS $100,000,000
FOR BIG COAL MINE

Standard Oil Company Has Bought Over Half Million Acres in Two States.

BIGGEST DEAL EVER MADE

The Property Involved is Located In Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Washington, Pa., Oct. 13.—Authoritative information on the biggest coal transaction financially in the history of speculation in black diamonds was secured here yesterday. It was learned that Josiah W. Thompson, of Uniontown has just closed a deal by which he transfers to the Standard Oil company 550,000 acres of coal land located in Washington and Greene counties, Pennsylvania, and in six West Virginia counties. The deal represents the transfer of about $100,000,000 and is without parallel for magnitude.

The Greene county coal land involved in the deal amounts to about 130,000 acres, while the Washington county block includes 140,000 acres. The other 275,000 acres included are located in Ohio, Marshall, Wertz, Lewis, Harrison and Monongahela counties of West Virginia.

For the last fifteen years Thompson has been taking up coal options through Washington and Greene counties and in West Virginia. In the early days of its activities he bought many thousands of acres at as low a figure as $10 an acre.

Of late years, however, the price has gone up but it is known that seldom has the Uniontown coal deal paid over $100 an acre. In the deal just closed he turns over his Washington and Greene county coal at a little over $300 an acre and receives a good figure for his West Virginia holdings.

BARNES RESIGNS.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 12.—William Barnes, of Albany, who was one of the leaders of the old guard in the fight against Colonel Roosevelt as temporary chairman of the recent Republican state convention, has resigned as a member of the Republican state committee.

AT THE EMPIRE THEATRE.

Dainty Miss Kennedy and her exceptionally good company will again visit Edmonton on Oct. 17, 18, and 19, with a big special ladies' and children's matinee on Wednesday, Oct. 19. There is no doubt but that the thespians of Edmonton will be glad to know that this superb company is again going to appear here. In coming to Edmonton this time, W. A. Partello presents Miss Kennedy in one of the most remarkable as well as weird plays ever presented to the public, "The House of a Thousand Candles."

It is hardly necessary to give this play an introduction, for it is safe to say that the book has been read and heard of by nearly every English person in the city. For a mysterious play "The House of a Thousand Candles" has any play or story beat that has ever been heard of. Miss Alice Kennedy in the role of Marion Devereux (the person who is the cause of nearly all the trouble) will be seen in a part that will gain more admirers, than she gained when she appeared a few weeks ago in "Lena Rivers."

The entire company will be seen in parts which will please the most skeptic and critical. Special scenery and effects will be used to make the production of "The House of a Thousand Candles" one glorious success.

"The Manxman," with Frederick Clarke as a star will appear at the Empire tonight for an engagement of three nights.

This really great Hall Caine play has created a distinct furor in the metropolitan cities of the world and its first appearance in this city will be greeted with great pleasure by the playgoers of this vicinity. Mr. Clarke has selected a most elaborate cast of players and will give his starring vehicle a magnificent scenic investiture.

TO EXHIBIT AT CHICAGO.

The Board of Trade has reserved space in the main building of the International Stock Show at Chicago for the second time in its history, for the purpose of displaying an exhibit of stock from the Edmonton district.

Y. M. C. A. Work
In Many Fields

It is said that in no country in the world is the Y.M.C.A. so prosperous as in Canada, where there are associations reaching from Halifax to Vancouver. Edmonton is a strong center, but the association is not free from the incubus of debt and it is with the object of wiping off this debt and for the purpose of enlarging the plunge bath and improving the shower bath section of the building that the campaign which will open next week, namely, October 18, and continue till Monday, October 24 to raise $36,000 has been inaugurated.

The Young Men's Christian association was founded sixty-six years ago, and has grown to be an organization with 250,000 members in fifty countries. The number of local associations is about 6,000. A feature of its work in Canada is its effort to enter the life of the railway employee. Of the total railway mileage of Canada, the United States and Mexico 80 per cent. is dotted with Y.M.C.A. reading rooms and other buildings, the real property value being $350,000. In Canada alone the property value in buildings and equipment along the great railways is considerably more than a million dollars.

When one reflects upon how many things founded sixty years ago which have grown hopelessly old-fashioned credit must be given to the leaders in Y.M.C.A. work. The organization has grown with the times and while never permitting its foundational principles to be the least slight of, has adapted itself to modern castes and demands in a hundred ways.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES.

Sunday, Oct. 16, will be anniversary Sunday in the Norwood Methodist church. Rev. Robt. Pearson, B. A., will preach in the morning and Rev. J. Coulter, B. A., in the evening. The dinner will be served in the Odd Fellows' hall, on the Norwood boulevard on Tuesday, from 6 to 8 p.m.

Few congregations in the city have shown a healthier growth during the past year than the Norwood Methodists and next Sunday it is expected, will be a record day in the history of the church.

AN INTERESTING NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY

The Deslaurats' Newspaper Directory for 1910 will prove of very great value to advertisers who are interested in Canadian publications.

The Directory contains sketches of the different provinces and towns, a list of the manufacturers in each town, and an unusually full report of the different daily and other newspapers and periodicals published in Canada. Any person contemplating an advertising campaign should have a copy of the Directory, which contains the latest available information regarding newspaper circulation.

The Directory contains 328 pages, is well printed and bound in cloth and gold. Although the price of the Directory is $5, we understand the publishers will forward a copy to any one interested in advertising who will make application to the Deslaurats' Advertising Agency Montreal, enclosing 35 cents to prepay charges.

the CONQUEST OF CANAAN

cades," etc.

By 3 o'clock joy at Mike's place had become beyond question unconfined, and the tokens of it were audible for a long distance in all directions. If, however, there is no sound where no ears, silence rested upon the countryside until an hour later. Then a lonely figure came shivering from the direction of the town not by the road, but slinking through the snow upon the frozen river. It came slowly, as though very tired, and cautiously, too, often turning its head to look behind. Finally it reached the pier and stopped as if it listened.

Within the house above a piano of evil life was being beaten to death for its sins and clamoring its cries of horror. The old shed rattled in every part with the thud of many heavy feet and trembled with the shock of noise, an incessant roar of men's voices, punctuated with women's screams. Then the riot quieted somewhat. There was a clapping of hands and a violin began to squeak measures intended to be oriental. The next moment the listener scrambled up one of the rotting piles and stood upon the veranda. A shaft of red light through a broken shutter struck across the figure above the shoulders, revealing a bloody handkerchief clutched about the neck and beneath it the face of Joe Louden.

Joe opened the door and went in. All of the merry company (who were able) turned sharply toward the door as it opened. One or two nearest the door asked the boy, without great curiosity, what had happened to his head. He merely shook it faintly in reply and crossed the room to an open hallway beyond. At the end of this he came to a doorway, the door of which stood ajar. Seated at a deal table and working by a dim lamp with a broken chimney, a close cropped, red bearded, red haired man in his shirt sleeves was jabbing gloomily at a column of figures scrawled in a dirty ledger.

Up at Joe appeared in the doorway, and his eyes showed a slight surprise. "I never thought ye had the temper to get somebody to spit yer head," said he. "Where'd ye collect it?"

He unwound the handkerchief and removed it from Joe's head gently. "When" he cried on a long gasp was exposed over the forehead. "I hope ye left a mark somewhere to put a little on the score of 'dick'!"

Joe chuckled and dropped dizzily back upon the pillow. "There was another who got something like it," he gaped feebly. "and oh, Mike, I wish you could have heard him going on! Perhaps you did. It was only three miles from here."

"Nothing I'd liked better!" said the other, bringing a basin of clear water from a stand in the corner. "It's a beautiful thing to hear a man holler when he gets a grand one like ye're wearing tonight."

He bathed the wound gently and, hurrying from the room, returned immediately with a small jug of vinegar. Wiping a rag with this tender fluid, he applied it to Joe's head, speaking soothingly the while.

"Nothing in the world like a bit o' good clear vinegar to keep off the fever," it may seem a trifle silly for the moment, but it assassinates the blood poison. There ye go! It's the thing for ye, Joe. What are ye squinting about?"

"I'm only enjoying it," the boy answered, writhing as the vinegar worked into the gash. "Don't you mind my touching it myself?"

"Ye're a good one, Joe!" said the other, continuing his ministrations. "I wish, after all, ye felt like me! I've known to what's the trouble. There's some of us would be glad to take it up for ye, and—"

"No, no it's all right. I was some where I had no business to be, and I got caught."

"Who caught ye?"

"First some nice white people"—Joe smiled his distorted smile—"and then a low down black man helped me to get away as soon as he saw who it was. He's a friend of mine, and he fell down and tripped up the parson!"

"I always knew ye'd get into large trouble some day." The red bearded man tore a strip from an old towel and began to bandage Joe's head with an accustomed hand. "Ye taste for excitement has been growin' on ye every minute of the four years I've known ye."

"I've got $7," Joe said, without replying to Mike. "and I'll leave the clothes I've got on. Can you fix me up with something different?"

"I'll have the things for ye, and I'll let ye know I have no use for $7," returned the red bearded man crossly. "What are ye sniffin' for?"

He looked up as Joe appeared in the doorway.

"I'm thinking of the poor fellow that got the mate to this," said Joe, touching the bandage. "I can't help crying when I think they may have used vinegar on his head too."

"Git to sleep if ye can!" exclaimed the Samaritan as a hideous burst of noise came from the dance room, where some one seemed to be breaking a chair upon an acquaintance. "I'll go out and regulate the boys a bit!" He turned down the lamp, fumbled in his hip pocket and went to the door.

CHAPTER VI.

THE day broke with a scream of wind out of the prairies and such cloudbursts of snow that Joe could see neither bank of the river as he made his way down the big bend of ice. The wind struck so bitterly that now and then he stopped and, panting and gasping, leaned his weight against it. The snow on the ground was caught up and flew like sea spume in a hurricane; it swirled about him, joining the flakes in the air, so that it seemed to be snowing from the ground upward as much as from the sky downward. Pierce as it was, hard as it was to fight through, snow from the earth, snow from the sky, Joe was grateful for it, feeling that it veiled him, making him safer, though he trusted somewhat the change of costume he had effected at Beaver Beach. A rough workman's cap was pulled down over his ears and eyebrows; a knitted comforter was wound about the lower part of his face; under a ragged overcoat he wore blue overalls and rubber boots, and in one of his red mittened hands he swung a tin dinner bucket.

He bent his body against the wind and went on, still keeping to the back ways, until he came to the alley which passed behind his own home, where, however, he paused only for a moment to make a quick survey of the premises. A glance satisfied him; he ran to the next fence, hoisted himself over it and dropped into Roger Tabor's back yard.

The place seemed empty, and he was on the point of going away when he heard the click of the front gate and saw Ariel coming toward him. At the sound of the gate he had crouched close against the side of the house, but she saw him at once.

She stopped abruptly and, throwing the waterproof back from her head, looked at him through the driven fog of snow. One of her hands was stretched toward him involuntarily, and it was in that attitude that he long remembered her—she looked an Undine of the snow.

Suddenly she ran to him, still keeping her hand outstretched until it touched his own.

"How did you know me?" he said. "Know you?" was all the answer she made to that question. "Come into the house. I've got some coffee on the stove for you. I've been up and down the street waiting for you ever since it began to get light. There's no one here."

She led him to the front door, where he stamped and shook himself. He was snowed from head to foot.

She wasted no time in getting him to the kitchen, where, when she had removed his overcoat, she placed him in a chair, unwound the comforter and, as carefully as a nurse, lifted the cap from his injured head. When the strip of towel was disclosed, she stood quite still for a moment, with the cap in her hand. Then, with a broken little cry, she stooped and kissed a lock of his hair which escaped, discolored, beneath the bandage.

"Stop that!" he commanded, horribly embarrassed.

"Oh, Joe," she cried, "I knew! I knew it was true, but to see it! And it's my fault for leaving you. I had to go or I wouldn't have—I—"

"What you hear about it?" he asked shortly.

"I haven't been to bed," she answered. "Grandfather and I were up all night at Uncle Jones' and Colonel Pittcroft came about 2 o'clock, and he told us."

"Did he tell you about Norbert?"

"Yes—a great deal." She poured coffee into a cup from a pot on the stove, brought it to him, then, placing some slices of bread upon a griddle, began to toast them over the hot coals.

"The colonel said that Norbert thought he wouldn't get well," she concluded, "and Mr. Arr said Norbert was the kind that never die, and they had quite an argument."

BRITISH EMPIRE EXHIBITION, 1915

Union Jack Industries League Plans to Hold Big Fair in London Five Years Hence

CELEBRATE MAGNA CHARTA

Object to Demonstrate Agricultural and Manufacturing Capabilities of British Possessions

London, Oct. 13.—There is nothing like being early in the field when a big venture is on hand. The Union Jack Industries League, with a due sense of wisdom of this precaution, announce today that they intend to hold an exhibition in London, possibly at the Crystal Palace, in 1915—"to demonstrate the industrial resources of the British Empire, and to celebrate the 700th anniversary of Magna Charta, the foundation stone of British freedom."

As originally drawn up the scheme was intended to commemorate King Edward's golden wedding, which would have been celebrated in 1913. The exhibition is to be "all-British."

It is intended that the exhibition shall be opened on May 24, 1915, but it is hoped that the festivities will include a special celebration of the Magna Charta anniversary, on June 19, at Runnymede. The main object of the exhibition is to demonstrate the agricultural and manufacturing capabilities of British possessions throughout the world, and thus stimulate each portion of the Empire to take a pride in its own industrial development in particular and, by means of inter-empire trade, that of the Empire as a whole.

Each dominion, as far as its practicalities will erect its own exhibition building, but in the case of the smaller British possessions arrangements for joint displays will be made the object of the league being that every single possession, having any industry capable of representation, shall take its part in the undertaking.

Among the proposed features of the exhibition are a Palace of Empire, an Empire Club, and a General Bureau of Information with an Immigration office attached.

Efforts will be made to arrange a representation, at Runnymede itself, if possible, of the scene attending the granting of Magna Charta. Interesting episodes in Colonial history may also be represented with a view to encouraging the study of the history of the constituent portions of the Empire.

The estimated capital to be subscribed and guaranteed a $250,000.

HOBBLE SKIRT PLEA IN COURT

Damage to Old Style Gowns Cut Down Because They Could Not Be Remodeled.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—The question as to how much should be subtracted from the value of a gown because it cannot be converted into a hobble skirt was put up to Judge Holmes yesterday for decision. Mrs. Guy Hartwell, 3248 Indiana avenue, brought suit for $100 against the drycleaning and cleaning firm of Davis & Weber for alleged damage to two gowns, one blue and one tan, left with the establishment a year ago.

The blue was to be cleaned and the dyed black. When returned in July both had been dyed black. Attorney T. W. Prindiville for the defendant, in declaring the gowns had been overvalued, stated that they were out of hobble skirts.

This puzzled the judge, but he entered a judgment of $55 after considering the "hobble skirt" plea.

AUSTRALIA FARMERS FORM A THIRD POLITICAL PARTY

Believe That the Only Way to Get Their Demands Granted.

Melbourne, Oct. 13.—A new organization has entered the field of Australian politics, the Farmers' and Settlers' Association. This body is to form a political party distinct from and independent of the two sections now struggling for supremacy. By no other means do the farmers and settlers see a way of obtaining their demands. Already they have drawn up their platform, which candidates will be expected not merely to sign, but to abide by and fight for. It has at present twelve planks: Land settlement to the paramount over revenue; freehold tenure, as opposed to land nationalization; choice of tenure of Crown lands; permanent right of redemption; railway extension; water conservation and irrigation; administration of Lands Department by commissioners; desirable immigration; the elective principle in land boards; bulk handling of grain; land law consolidation.

If the organization has a leaning to any political party, it is to the Liberals.

WOMEN PUNISHED THE CITY FATHERS

300 of Them Stormed the Assembly Hall and Drove Them From Building

THEN THEY ALL RESIGNED

Trouble Resulted From Their Action in Opposing Opening of New Road

Rome, Oct. 13.—The extraordinary event of a municipal assembly being expelled from the town hall by a body of women has occurred at the little Roman suburb of Rocca Priora.

Some time ago the councilors created discontent among the population by opposing the opening of a new road. Seeing that it was not to be obtained by fair means, the women resolved to punish the councilors.

A plan was accordingly formed by three hundred women to storm the hall during a sitting of the council, and the secret was so well guarded that not a single man had the least suspicion of what was going to happen.

In the midst of a debate an army of women marched into the hall and ordered the councilors to leave the premises, as they were no longer worthy of popular confidence.

In the presence of the numerical superiority at the Diet in connection with the Imperial proposals defining help of Councilors found themselves helpless, and to avoid a skirmish, they left the building with protests. The town hall was then locked up by the women and the key handed to the police, with the injunction that it was only to be given to a government official.

Having accomplished their little coup d'etat, the revolutionists went home, where they were congratulated by their husbands and fathers. The same evening the ejected councilors sent a telegram to the government authorities announcing their resignation.

ONE MONTH FOR THEFT

Man Stole Wearing Apparel From Hotel—Pleads Guilty.

Ferry Sullivan, alias George Shor, pleaded guilty to stealing two pairs of boots, two pairs of socks and other articles from D. B. Adamson at the Caledonian Hotel. He was sentenced to one month imprisonment.

Two men were fined $4 and costs for drunkenness, at the police court.

DEADLOCK IN FINLAND.

Diet Refuses to Accept Place of a Purely Russian Province.

Helsingfors, Oct. 13.—A deadlock has arisen in the Diet in connection with the Imperial proposals defining Russo-Finnish relations. The document embodying these was not accompanied by any direct communication from the Emperor, the only authorization being a memorandum from the Russian council of ministers. Finland is thus treated as a purely Russian province, and the Diet refuse to recognize the procedure on the ground that Russian ministers in themselves are unknown to the Finnish constitution. It is probable that the Diet will eventually be dissolved. There has been no discussion on the merits of the proposals. The Czar has thus been defied at the very beginning of the session.

POLICE DOG "ARRESTS" AN "APACHE."

Paris, Oct. 13.—Captain, a Paris police dog, "arrested" an "apache," who had violently assaulted a man at the St. Cloud fete.

In a Foreign Land; but Had to Go to Jail Just the Same.

Constantinople, Oct. 13.—The editor-in-chief of the Armenian paper "Ishtakrak" has been sentenced to a court-martial to a month's imprisonment for an article which he published reflecting on the Czar. The Russian ambassador made a formal complaint about the article, upon which an official enquiry was opened, with the result stated.

THAT TYPHOID SCARE

The following is the statement of the Medical Health Officer for Strathcona on the recent typhoid epidemic in that city.

At the present time in Strathcona there are 19 cases of typhoid in ten different houses and shacks in the southwest portion of the city. Eighty per cent of these cases have developed in houses that are not served by the city sewage system, and the infection is mostly due to possible contamination of the milk and water supply. The cases are not severe and the health department are taking active steps to deal with the matter in an efficient manner.

It doesn't hurt a jolt to crack it.

TO BUILD A BIG STORE

First, Build a Big Merchant

Emerson said that "an institution is but the lengthened shadow of one man."

A store is no greater than its owner. It will grow up to the stature of his biggest ideas—no no larger.

Every store in this town is GROWING UP TO ITS OWNER'S SIZE.

So that, no matter how small it is today, it will become a big as he determines it shall be.

For your "natural merchant" is a big advertiser. He may be able, just now, to use but a small space—but he is getting ready to use big space. And he uses the small space PERSISTENTLY, making the advertising as inevitably a part of his expense as anything else—and aiming at a constant expansion of the space used.

That sort merchant will Build a Big Store—for he is, potentially, a Big Merchant already.

DISTRICT COURT

In the District Court this morning Morin sued the Big Island Ferry School District for damages for the seizure of certain property for the payment of school taxes, claiming that the amount of goods seized was greatly in excess of the amount of the taxes, that he offered to pay the taxes at the time and that his operations as a farmer were interfered with before an adjustment was made. The defendants deny his allegations and claim that the amount finally received from Morin was no more than sufficient to pay the expenses of seizure. The amount claimed is $160 damages in addition to the recovery of $85.59 exacted from him before the restoration of the property.

SUPREME COURT

His Lordship Justice Heek in giving judgment in the case of McCallum vs. Smith, in the Supreme Court this morning, said: "I have made the following memorandum." I find that in the agreement drawn up on May 27th there was nothing to show that the expenses of winding up were to be borne by the plaintiff McCallum, but the agreement was such that it would be understood by an ordinary business man that the expenses were to be borne by McCallum and McCallum had the opportunity of so understanding it. My decision is, however, subject to a reference to a regular chartered accountant if the plaintiff so desires it, the costs of such reference to be at his own risk and borne by himself.

The case has occupied now two days. The action arose from the winding up of the estate of Joseph McCallum of Mundare. In the agreement no stipulation was made as to costs, though McCallum agreed to pay 75 cents on the dollar. Subsequently he failed to protest against the deduction of expenses from money turned into the estate and all in all some twelve hundred dollars were appropriated for expenses incurred by the assignee. He sued to recover the amount so used. The case was dismissed, the question of costs to be reserved.
